Corps, formerly of the District, last year, were shot today.

The trophy match was won by Troop A of Squadron A of New York.

May File a Protest.

A protest may be filed by Company D of the 27th Regiment, New York, which claims the high team exceeded the time allowance. The winners scored 133 on the 200 and 500 ranges.

Scores at the end of the first stage in the Columbia trophy match were as follows: 2d Regiment, 288; 2d Regiment, 266; 4th Regiment, 266.

RADICALS ARE DONE

can even if they could understand them. Again the power of a reckless press would be enhanced and justice and equity would play little part in the result.

The tendency of such so-called reform is in the destruction of the sanctity of our Constitution. Under the initiative and referendum no great consideration by the people is required in the passage of a constitutional amendment than that of any temporary and unimportant measure.

The system of representative government is an institution hampered in the struggle for liberty by our Anglo-Saxon ancestors for eight hundred years. The system of written constitutions and an independent judiciary has vindicated itself in the strenuous life of the republic for 125 years and there is nothing in the actual results of the initiative, referendum and recall that commands them as a substitute.

What is true with respect to the state is true with respect to the party. Parties are essential to popular government. In no other way practically can the will of all the electorate be interpreted and embodied in affirmative action, legislative and executive.

Gave Rise to Abuses.

"The convention system gave rise to abuses. Bosses and machines were able to control the convention, but even under the worst boss and the worst machine the convention was a body with a sense of some responsibility. It was a body which would nominate a ticket which would win in the election; and therefore while it made dates whose selection did not make for the public interest, it frequently nominated men of strength and popularity and high character in order that the ticket might be a vote-getting one."

"Under the system of the general primary there is no such responsibility. Especially is this true in the selection of the subordinate officers in such cases. 'Nor is it true that the general primary is any less subject to the control of a machine and the boss and a political organization than a convention. Primaries are usually attended by a body of the party. In other words, the result is much affected by the machine which can be aroused to come out to vote, and that depends upon organization. This places in the hands of the politicians who have an organization the means to control."

"The representative system in legislatures and in conventions will work well if the people who ought to be the masters of the system will work for the reasons I have stated. A deal better than the initiative and referendum and the general primary. But we should realize under any system the politicians will control, if the people fail in their electoral duties."

Benefits to Labor Unions.

Mr. Taft said trade union had secured much benefit for their members through the political influence they have exercised; that they are here to stay and will remain powerful factors in the life of the country. He held that the chief ground for criticizing the recent policy of trades unions is that with the power they have legitimately acquired by combination they are now attempting to place organized labor in a privileged class. He declared that the Clayton act, making legal a secondary boycott, might work great hardship upon employers.

Interest in the final business session in the afternoon centered in the election of officers and the selection of the 1916 convention city. Because of the fact that recommendations by the nomination committee usually have been tantamount to election, it was believed that James K. Lynch of San Francisco would be chosen president, and that Peter W. Goshel of Kansas City, Mo., who yesterday defeated Soli Wexler of New Orleans, La., in committee by a two to one vote, would be elected vice president.

Indications were that Col. Fred E. Farnsworth of New York would be re-elected secretary. He generally was thought that Kansas City would get the next convention, although Atlantic City, N. J., was expected to make a strong bid.

With the vice presidency going to Kansas City and in view of the fact that the vice president usually succeeds in the presidency it generally was thought that Kansas City would get the next convention, although Atlantic City, N. J., was expected to make a strong bid.

Resolutions Adopted by Convention.

The association, with one negative vote, yesterday adopted a resolution offered by former Representative Cornelius A. Pugsley of Peekskill, N. Y., pledging support to state and national governments in an effort to obtain practical preparedness along the lines of national defense.

An amendment to the constitution was adopted providing that no proposed change in the constitution should be urged by any section of the association without the approval of the law committee and the association as a whole. The convention adopted a resolution that an attempt be made to procure an amendment to section 19 of the federal reserve act. The proposed change would give members banks not in federal reserve or central reserve cities the option of keeping 4 per cent of their reserve with any national bank in any reserve or central reserve city in the United States, or within a radius of 300 miles of the member bank or within the federal reserve district. The member banks now can keep such 4 per cent in their own vaults or in the federal reserve bank.
